

Linear Investments UK Modern Slavery Statement

Background

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (the “Act”) and constitutes our slavery and human trafficking statement for the financial year ending 31 December 2023. Linear Investments is currently out of scope from publishing a modern slavery statement given that the firm’s annual turnover is less than £36 million however, this statement has been prepared to show our commitment to ethical working.

Business Activities

Linear Investments is a specialist prime broker for a wide range of professional clients. Given the nature of the firm’s business, its own supply chains are limited in number and scope.

Commitment

Linear Investments is committed to acting according to the highest standards of ethical behaviours and this includes how we choose our suppliers. We seek to only work with suppliers who meet the same standards. The firm generally has a relatively low reliance on service providers and suppliers, but remains determined to employ the services of high quality and reputable third parties in our supply chain.

We will continue to ensure that as our business develops, we remain focused on ensuring our supply chain complies with the requirements of the Act.

Paul Kelly
CEO
26th January 2024